

AJOVY™ Financial Assistance Guide

In 2018, a new class of medications was approved by the FDA for the prevention of migraine in adults. These drugs are referred to as calcitonin gene-related peptide (CGRP) inhibitors. There are currently three CGRP medications on the market. Dosing, frequency of use and method of action vary.

Most insurance companies have added at least one or two of these CGRP inhibitors to the list of medicines they cover, but individual patients are still struggling to get the insurers to approve coverage of their prescribed CGRP inhibitor. Each pharmaceutical company is offering financial assistance programs to help help cover the cost of high copays. Each program is different and various programs exist to support patients with private, government-funded insurance, as well as the uninsured.

To help patients understand each program, the Coalition For Headache And Migraine Patients (CHAMP) has created Financial Assistance Guides for the three CGRP inhibitors. These guides have not been produced or approved by the medication manufacturers. CHAMP is not endorsing the use of any CGRP inhibitor over another, nor promoting the use of this new class of preventive medications for everyone with migraine disease. Every patient needs to consult their healthcare provider to determine if CGRP inhibitors are right for you.

I have been prescribed Ajovy. What financial assistance programs exist to help me?

I Have a Private/Commercial Insurance Plan

This category includes insurance plans provided through an employer, purchased with subsidy support from the Affordable Care Act (Obamacare) or purchased privately.

Highlights of Teva Savings Card

If you have commercial drug insurance and it covers Ajovy, you may be able to pay as little as $5 for your Ajovy. The program currently extends through December 2020. The Savings Card is subject to a maximum annual limit of $3500. This means that you may be required to pay out of pocket depending on your health plan and copay model if the maximum annual cap is reached.

This program is managed by ConnectiveRx on behalf of Teva. Teva reserves the right to make eligibility determinations, to set offer benefit maximums, to monitor participation, and to change, rescind, revoke or discontinue this offer at any time without notice.

Information on how to get your Savings Card on the following page

Steps To Get Your Savings Card

STEP 1 - Your doctor writes you a prescription for Ajovy.

STEP 2 - Download or activate your Savings Offer at ajovy.com/savings.

STEP 3 - Take your prescription Savings Offer card and primary insurance card to your regular retail pharmacy to be filled. It is important to give your Savings Offer to the pharmacist when you pick up your Ajovy prescription to ensure that you receive the offered savings.

STEP 4 - You receive your Ajovy from your pharmacy.

STEP 5 - In order to receive the Savings Offer, your commercial drug insurance must cover Ajovy. You may need to submit a prior authorization form in order to continue eligibility.

Congratulations on accessing your first dose of Ajovy! Teva will now be working behind the scenes to get your doctor to complete a prior authorization form and to get your insurance company to cover your Ajovy prescription. To be a proactive and engaged patient, you should contact your doctor's office to see if they have completed the Ajovy prior authorization form on your behalf and your insurance company to see if they will be covering your prescribed medicine. If you have questions or encounter problems, contact Teva Shared Solutions at 1-800-887-8100.

I Have Medicare, Medicaid or other Government Insurance Plan

The Teva Savings Offer is not available to patients whose medical insurance is provided by state or federal programs like Medicare, Medicaid or Tricare. This restriction is true for all three CGRP inhibitor medications.

The Federal Government does not allow people who are receiving insurance benefits through Medicare, Medicaid, etc. to use co-pay assistance, discount or savings cards offered by pharmaceutical companies. The intent is to steer patients to lower-cost generic drugs and not to support higher-cost brand-name drugs. Unfortunately, there are no generic/biosimilar medications in the class of CGRP inhibitors and won't be for years to come.

If you are struggling to get Medicare or Medicaid to cover your prescription, speak to a Teva Shared Solutions® representative at 1-800-887-8100 who will help determine eligibility for available financial assistance programs. The call center is open Monday – Friday, 9 a.m. – 9 p.m. ET.

I Am Uninsured

The Teva Savings Offer is not available to patients who are uninsured.

The TevaCares Foundation Patient Assistance Program offers financial assistance to uninsured and underinsured patients with lower incomes. Income eligibility can cover households earning up to 500% of the Federal Poverty Level (about $60,000 for singles or up to $125,000 for a family of four). Speak to a Shared Solutions representative at 1-800-887-8100 to determine if you are eligible. The call center is open Monday – Friday, 9 a.m. – 9 p.m. ET.
